Specification

The specification and the abstract are objected to because of the following:

The specification is replete with grammatical errors, such as "In case the blind is careless unfolded...". The term "T-shaped cords" is not understood.

Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

Claims 1-5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In claim 1: no antecedent basis for "the bottom most slat"; the term "T shaped cords" is ambiguous; the claim contains limitations that appear to be method steps in the operation of the blind. It must be made clear if this is a method claim or an article claim. In claims 2-5, the phrase "can be" renders the scope of the claims ambiguous.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Chumbley et al.

Art Unit: 3634

The claims are met as best understood in light of the 112 rejection above. See magnets 20 which are secured to each other through the fabric.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 4 and 5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Chumbley et al.

Both metal magnets and rubber-based magnets are well known and it would have been obvious to use each of these materials to take advantage of their inherent qualities.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
